WHGA Expands to Meet Regional Growth

Chantilly, Virginia – July 01, 2004 -- William H. Gordon Associates, Inc. (WHGA), a veteran-owned civil engineering firm, today announced the opening of their new office in Prince William County, Virginia, in order to provide superior customer service to a growing client base. For nearly three decades, WHGA has served the needs of the Mid-Atlantic area from its Chantilly, Leesburg, Winchester, and Charles Town locations.

The new office will be conveniently located in the Glen Park I Building, located along the Prince William County Parkway, less than a half a mile south of the County Administrative Buildings. Joseph W. McClellan, P.E., principal and vice president, will facilitate the opening of the new office. Joe is a long-standing resident of Prince William County, and is involved in many civic and community organizations. He has over 25 years of experience with the firm, and is often called upon for his local expertise regarding land use issues.

According to Rob Walker, WHGA's regional director, "our presence in Prince William County will allow WHGA to play a larger role in facilitating and resolving land use issues to better serve the interests of our clients."

Some current projects that WHGA has "on the boards" in Prince William County include: Prince William County Phase III Administration Building; Heritage Hunt, Godwin Woods; Heathcote Commons and Heathcote Commons Boulevard; Balls Ford Road Industrial Park; Spyglass Self Storage, and the historic renovation of the Old Bennett School.
